Proud Penguins Newsletter

This week in class 1...

This week we have welcomed Mrs Mahoney into our class. She will be teaching and helping the children until just before Christmas. The children have been very welcoming to help her feel at home.

Please continue to bring in payments and consent slips for our upcoming trip. If we do not receive enough payments, we may have to cancel the trip.

In your homework books there will be a new homework grid for our upcoming topic 'The Victorians.' Please continue to complete one activity from the grid each week. Thank you to everyone who was consistent with homework this half term.

We also have a new role play area linked to our new topic which the children are looking forward to learning in.

During the first week back, the children will be learning about 2D and 3D shapes so if you see any shapes whilst you are out and about over the holidays, please show these to the children.

The children who brought money for the bun sale helped to support leprosy. Thank you for your kind donations.

Thank you to the parents who have taken on board the head lice information. Please remember to check your child's hair frequently and should you find any lice, complete the relevant course of treatment. There are two courses and the second one is equally important. Hopefully, if all parents check their children's hair during the holidays, we can help eliminate the lice from our class when we return.

You may have seen on our notice board that there is a reading area competition running in each of the classes. The children are asked to bring in any unwanted magazines/books/reading games that they do not read at home to share with their friends in class. Hopefully this will encourage reluctant readers. Also if your child reads a book or magazine at home that is not their school reading book, please write this in their reading record books. This is still reading at home and three reads does earn the children a reading token.

I hope that the children have a good rest this half term and I look forward to hearing about what they have been doing when school returns on Monday 31st October.

Thank you for your support this half term!

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to speak to me after school.

Miss Adams

Reminders:

- PE days are Tuesday and Thursday. Please ensure children have their name written in their clothes.
- Spelling test on Friday.
- Show and Tell on a Friday.
- Remember to choose an activity from the homework grid.

Coming up next week...

- In maths the children will be learning the properties of 2D and 3D shapes.
- In history the children will be learning about Queen Victoria and her life.
- The children will be learning how to save work in computing.
- As it is almost Bonfire night the children will be learning about the safety and history linked to this as well as producing poetry about the sounds associated with Bonfire Night.
