Delegation and Meetings Protocol

Most of the work of a Governing Body is conducted in meetings and it is important that they are productive for all concerned. The previously described 'Constitution' and 'Terms of Reference' should give new governors an overview of which committee deals with which decisions. In addition to the Terms of reference there are other specific rules to follow, such as

- Frequency of meetings
- Notice required for a Governors Meeting

- Dispatch of paperwork
- Minutes and confidentiality

Frequency of meetings

Each committee holds at least one meeting per term, additional meetings can be held if deemed necessary. Meetings are convened by the clerk who takes direction from the governing body and the chair. Any three members of the governing body can request a governing body meeting by giving written notice to the clerk that summarises the business to be conducted. The clerk must convene a meeting as soon as is practicable.

Notice required for a Governors Meeting / Dispatch of Paperwork

The Head Teacher must give each governor, and associate member written notice of a meeting, a copy of the agenda and any papers to be considered at the meeting at least seven days before the meeting. If the chair considers that there are matters that demand urgent consideration, he or she can determine a shorter period of notice, but the period of notice must be at least seven days if matters include the removal of the chair, the suspension of any governor, or a proposal to close the school is to be considered.

Minutes and confidentiality

The Head Teacher must ensure that minutes are drawn up by a governor, approved by the governing body and are signed by the chair at the next meeting. The governing body must make available for inspection to any interested person, a copy of the agenda, signed minutes and reports or papers considered at the meeting as soon as is reasonably practical. Information relating to a named person or any other matter that the governing body considers confidential does not have to be made available for inspection.

Please make every effort to attend meetings and contribute to them. If there is anything you are unsure of – please ask questions, as a school we have our own jargon and we often forget that this can make it difficult for non specialists to understand, remember your views and opinions are important to us.
