

Our Tannersley EYFS Overarching Vision

At the end of EYFS, our pupils will have good independence skills and the ability to express and regulate their emotions in a range of contexts. They will be articulate and critical thinkers, with curious minds in relation to the world around them. The children will have solid foundations in literacy and numeracy on which to build in future years.

Our EYFS Curricular Goals

By the end of EYFS pupils will be able to:

- Prepare, share and tidy away after a healthy snack
- Use a broad vocabulary to support their daily interactions and understanding of the world
- Compare two religious/cultural celebrations and respond in their own way
- Explore the past and present by researching and asking a variety of questions
- Create and follow an obstacle course
- Plan, implement and evaluate one of their creations
- Be mathematical thinkers and talk about patterns
- Create, tell and perform their own story
- Find awe and wonder through the exploration of own interests and the environment
- Use a comfortable pencil grip (mainly tripod) to write sentences about interests, which can be read by themselves and others
- Have a love of stories, rhymes and books and be able to talk about them
- Manage personal needs independently
- Show an understanding and regulation of their own feelings and feelings of others
